The U.S.-Ukraine Foundation

is a publicly supported 501(c)(3), not-for-profit non-governmental organization established in 1991 to facilitate democratic development, encourage free market reform, and enhance human rights in Ukraine.

The Foundation, headquartered in Washington, creates and sustains channels of communication between the United States and Ukraine, in order to build peace and prosperity through an exchange of information. The Foundation is dedicated to strengthening the mutual objectives of the U.S. and Ukraine, advancing Ukraine as a cornerstone of regional stability and as a full partner in the community of nations.

The work of the Foundation, over the course of ten years, has been significant in the promotion of democratic and economic reforms in Ukraine. Since the beginning, when the Foundation was one of the first Western organizations to establish a physical presence in Kyiv through the founding of the Pylyp Orlyk Institute for Democracy, it has continued to provide Ukrainian pro-democratic reformers with the necessary information and technical assistance to transform their nation into a democratic, rule of law state.

Today the Foundation, which has representative branch status in Ukraine, operates through 6 major cities -- Kyiv, Cherkasy, Donetsk, Kharkiv, Kherson and Lviv. Over 40 professional staffers represent the Foundation and its key projects in Ukraine, and 12 serve in the Washington office.

The Foundation has earned a reputation in Ukraine and in the United States for its professionalism and credibility in fostering non-partisan discussion, providing accurate information and encouraging democratic reforms.
The program areas of the U.S.-Ukraine Foundation are:

Public Policy
Economic Development
Education
Health Care & Humanitarian Aid
Informational Services

The major projects administered by the U.S.-Ukraine Foundation include the:

- U.S.-Ukraine Community Partnerships for Local Government Training Program, designed to give technical assistance to Ukraine on a community to community basis, and supported by the U.S. Agency for International Development.
- Petroch Community Development Project, which helps the people of Old Dobrotvir, Ukraine,
- Kennan Kyiv Project, which furthers social science and humanities studies in Ukraine, and is supported by the Kennan Institute.

Public Policy

The U.S.-Ukraine Community Partnerships for Local Government
Training and Education Project

This project, funded by the U.S. Agency for International Development, provides technical assistance, training, and education to over 900 Ukrainian cities, towns, and villages through partnerships and seminar-based training at five Regional Training Centers. 14 Ukrainian communities were partnered with U.S. communities for an intensive study of solutions for targeted problems in economic development, strategic planning, budgeting, housing, and communal services, transportation, and citizen participation. Trainers and consultants from U.S. cities visit their partnered communities and municipal officials from these Ukrainian communities have internships in their U.S. partner communities. Five Regional Training Centers (RTCs) were established to provide training for all Ukrainian local governments; the newest center opened in Kharkiv in 2002.

A monthly newsletter and a quarterly journal - with circulations in excess of 4,000 each, including all city mayors - offer a forum for discussion of common local government problems and provide local and international technical solutions and best practices.

Since June 2003, CPP has discontinued direct support of the 14 partnerships (as these partnerships have for the most part been deemed sustainable) and instead has begun working with four clusters of six cities each in newly-established Regional Partnerships (RPs). Two RPs focus on economic development, while two focus on housing and communal services reform. These regional partnerships will continue to benefit from technical assistance provided by experienced trainers from the 14 U.S. partner communities, as well as mentoring from the 14 Ukrainian partner communities. CPP support of the regional partnerships is also aimed at further developing a network of reform-minded and confident city leaders and representatives who are committed to community and economic development.

During the course of the project, CPP achieved the following results: 12 of 14 partner communities showed improvements to quality of services provided by city government (no new cities in reporting period); 11 of 14 cities use strategic plans; 13 of 14 cities employ citizen-government advisory boards or working groups to develop plans and elicit input from the community in planning (2 new cities since last year); 9 of 14 cities use transparent and competitive bidding practices; and all 14 cities have introduced public information and education campaigns to elicit citizen input in government planning and operations.

Monitoring of RTC cities shows the following results in the reporting period (note that all RTC participant cities are not polled, due to high numbers. However we have proven these results in the most active of our participant cities): 12 cities showed improvements to quality of services provided by city government; 24 cities employ citizen-government advisory boards or working groups to develop plans and elicit input from the community in planning; and 24 cities have introduced public information and education campaigns to elicit citizen input in government planning and operations.
Public Policy

Important results of partnership activities include: 8 cities have incorporated citizen input from citizen task forces, advisory committees, and/or public hearings into decision-making on significant topics; 12 cities have achieved demonstrated improvements in specific services; 11 cities use strategic development plans, business plans, or action plans; 9 cities use fair and transparent processes for procurements; 11 cities have established task forces, advisory boards, working groups, etc. that include citizen representation and meet on a regular basis to ensure expert, professional, or stakeholder views in the local decision-making process; 13 municipalities hold public hearings (in addition to the one legally required annual hearing) and/or community meetings on a regular basis; 14 cities have programs for citizen education and information, and/or publication of relevant materials on city plans, budgets, municipal programs, operations and responsibilities. In the reporting period, the Regional Training Centers have held 339 seminars for over 7,354 local government officials (cumulative) representing more than 948 cities, towns and villages in Ukraine.

CPP has collaborated with Rutgers University and the Foundation for Support of Local Democracy in Poland to improve local training capacity and training center management, and since June 2002 is collaborating with the Carl Vinson Institute of government at the University of Georgia on a course aimed at developing the appropriate curriculum aimed at improving the management skills of local government officials.

Other planned strategic partners to CPP include the Padco tariff reform project, Bizpro and the State Committee on Housing and Communal Services, as well as the Association of Ukrainian Cities, with whom the RTCs have conducted several training seminars. Other USAID and donor funded projects have collaborated with CPP in training and technical assistance efforts provided to local governments in Ukraine.

Donated services and in-kind contributions during the fiscal year totaled $840,773.

Assisting the Legal Sector Project
This project aims to aid Ukraine’s legal sector by providing informational resources, sponsoring internships in the U.S. for legal students, and hosting other legal professionals.

The Pylyp Orlyk Institute for Democracy
The Pylyp Orlyk Institute in Kyiv, receives support from the Foundation to provide Ukrainian policymakers with information on public policy issues, such as democracy, democratic institutions, the development of civil society and free-market economics, to help educate and impact decision-makers in Ukraine.
Economic Development

Petrach Project

The William Petrach Charitable Trust, which had previously awarded the U.S.-Ukraine Foundation with funds in 1999 to construct a community center and a church rectory in Old Dobrotvir (Lviv oblast, Kamyanka-Buzkyj rayon), petitioned the Circuit Court of Arlington in March 2003 to terminate the trust and distribute the remaining assets to the U.S.-Ukraine Foundation.

The court approved the petition and has awarded the Foundation with $335,000. USUF has agreed to establish an endowedowment that will target annual earnings for the year-to-year needs of four community institutions that were supported by the Petrach Charitable Trust -- the community center, elementary school, library, and rectory of the Ukrainian Greek Catholic Church.

USUF's newest fund will be known as the Petrach Community Development Fund for Old (Star'yi) Dobrotvir.

Business Links

The Foundation published Business Links, a bi-monthly business informational newsletter in print and Business e-Links, in e-mail format in 2003. Preparations were made for the publication of a new business journal, POTENTIAL. The aim of these publications is to facilitate economic development between Ukraine and the United States by focusing attention on companies interested in business ventures, providing general business and economic data, and creating an open exchange of information between business entities.

Cultural REbirth of Ukraine Project

The CURE Project aims to foster the economic development of the cultural sector in Ukraine by assisting Ukrainian artists with supplies and training to enable them to compete in the marketplace.

Support to over 30 Ukrainian artisans totaled $17,130 during the year.

Other Projects

The Foundation has provided support for a small business development center in Romny, Ukraine.

Donated services and in-kind contributions totaled $46,230 for the Economic Development Program during the year.
Education

Kennan Kyiv Project

The U.S.-Ukraine Foundation assists the Kennan Institute of the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in administering its representative office in Kyiv. The Kennan Kyiv Project (KKP) was launched in November 1998. Its goal remains to recruit new scholars in the social sciences and humanities for grant programs at the Wilson Center and to develop an alumni program for participants in the program.

A number of conferences and seminars brought together scholars to share ideas on political, economic and social development in Ukraine and the region. A publication program was launched in response to the popularity of these activities.

The KKP maintains a full-time Project Director and a staff member who coordinate alumni events, publications, and recruitment activities.

The Kennan Institute's grant agreement with the Foundation extends to September 2004.

Internship Program

The Foundation is proud of its expanding Internship Program. USUF has welcomed many young men and women to its Washington office for an opportunity to work in U.S.-Ukrainian relations, to explore career choices, and to learn the political process. In addition, interns provide a valuable service to the Foundation in supporting its program activities.

During the past year, the Foundation provided an invaluable experience for these talented individuals:

Education

Melania Denys Kovaluk Scholarship Fund

USUF and the Canada Ukraine Foundation are administering a scholarship fund for the benefit of students in the village of Zabolotivci (Lviv oblast). The Kovaluk Scholarship Fund grew by 35% to an end-of-year value of of $67,888. Twelve students received awards in 2003.

The Fund’s end-of-the-year value was $70,931, growing by 75% from the prior year. The fund was created by Mr. & Mrs. Andrew and Luba Maryniuk, along with their sons George and Jerome.

Youth Leadership Program

The U.S.-Ukraine Foundation hosted its Second Annual Youth Leadership Program (YLP) in August 2003. This special “Washington experience” introduces college students to some of the essential elements of leadership in a week-long program of meetings and discussions at key DC institutions.

Through interaction with DC’s leaders, students learn about public policy, the political process, U.S.-Ukraine relations, the importance of the Ukrainian-American community in U.S.-Ukraine affairs, the organizations active in Ukraine, the need for activism, and the wide genre of careers available in Washington. They also gain a greater appreciation of the culture, institutions, and history of Ukraine.

This important program addresses the Ukrainian-American community’s need for greater leadership training and political activism for the rising generation. YLP seeks to shape the Ukrainian-American community’s youth for the leadership roles they will take on in the future within the community, U.S. government, and international relations. The Youth Leadership Program arms participants with new skills, and most importantly, helps inspire them in the confidence and ambition to participate in public affairs, so that they can become a positive force for change bridging the Ukrainian-American community and larger communities in the U.S. and Ukraine.

Health Care & Humanitarian Aid

The U.S.-Ukraine Foundation provides health care and humanitarian assistance to Ukraine.

The William T. Kemper Foundation of Kansas City made a contribution in Summer 2002 to support a soup kitchen in Kharkiv. The Foundation continued supporting the soup kitchen in FY2003.
